EXPRESSWAY INTO A NEW DECADE!

In Dedication To Mrs. Nancy G. Jones

During her thirty-eight years of life, fifteen years of which were spent as an educator at Rockwood, Mrs. Jones taught her students and fellow workers much about humor, concern, faith, acceptance, and determination.

Aware of her approaching death, Mrs. Jones requested that the following poem be read at her funeral. Thus, even in death, she continues to teach us about life and the need to accept its end, not mournfully with tears, but gracefully with courage.

Crossing the Bar

Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea,

But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound and foam,
When that which drew from out the boundless deep
Turns again home.

Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of farewell,
When I embark;

For though from out our bourne of Time and Place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have crossed the bar.

Imagine a successful town in the mid-nineteenth century. Formerly a town that kept to itself, it advanced to become the site of the county's headquarters for the main source of transportation, the railroad. People from all over the state, and even the country, pass through and stop here daily. The town gets larger, and the population grows. Businesses move in; people of all professions-blacksmiths, hotel managers, tailors-find Mineral Point a profitable and friendly place. The railroad cultivates the expansion of the town.

In 1881 the railroad extension to a larger town marks the beginning of the decline of Mineral Point, later known as Rockwood.

Today, one century later, the population is considerably less, and the businesses are fewer. The passenger train as a necessary form of transportation has since been replaced by faster and more efficient sources. However, Rockwood's railroad is not totally obsolete. Every year a passenger train comes to visit the town. Even though the times have changed, one gets a feeling of nostalgia and a strong sense of pride in Rockwood's history as a railroad center and in its present status as a small, friendly community.

Like a journey on a train, with passengers, picking up souvenirs at different stops, experiencing new ideas, meeting different people, so is a journey through high school. Each consecutive year is like a stop at a different town. The basic structures of the towns are the same, but the people and their activities vary. The souvenirs of a student's journey through school are knowledge and memories.

From the departure, or the day the student enters the building for the first time, anticipation and a fear of the unknown are predominant in almost all seventh graders. As the trek continues through the successive grades, the school appears to change. The voluminous rooms seem to shrink, the lengthy halls, which seemed to take an eternity to walk, can now be covered with a few short strides, and the towering seniors are suddenly you and your fellow classmates. At the end of the twelfth grade, the ticket expires. This particular period of life ends, but this ending only creates the beginning for another journey.

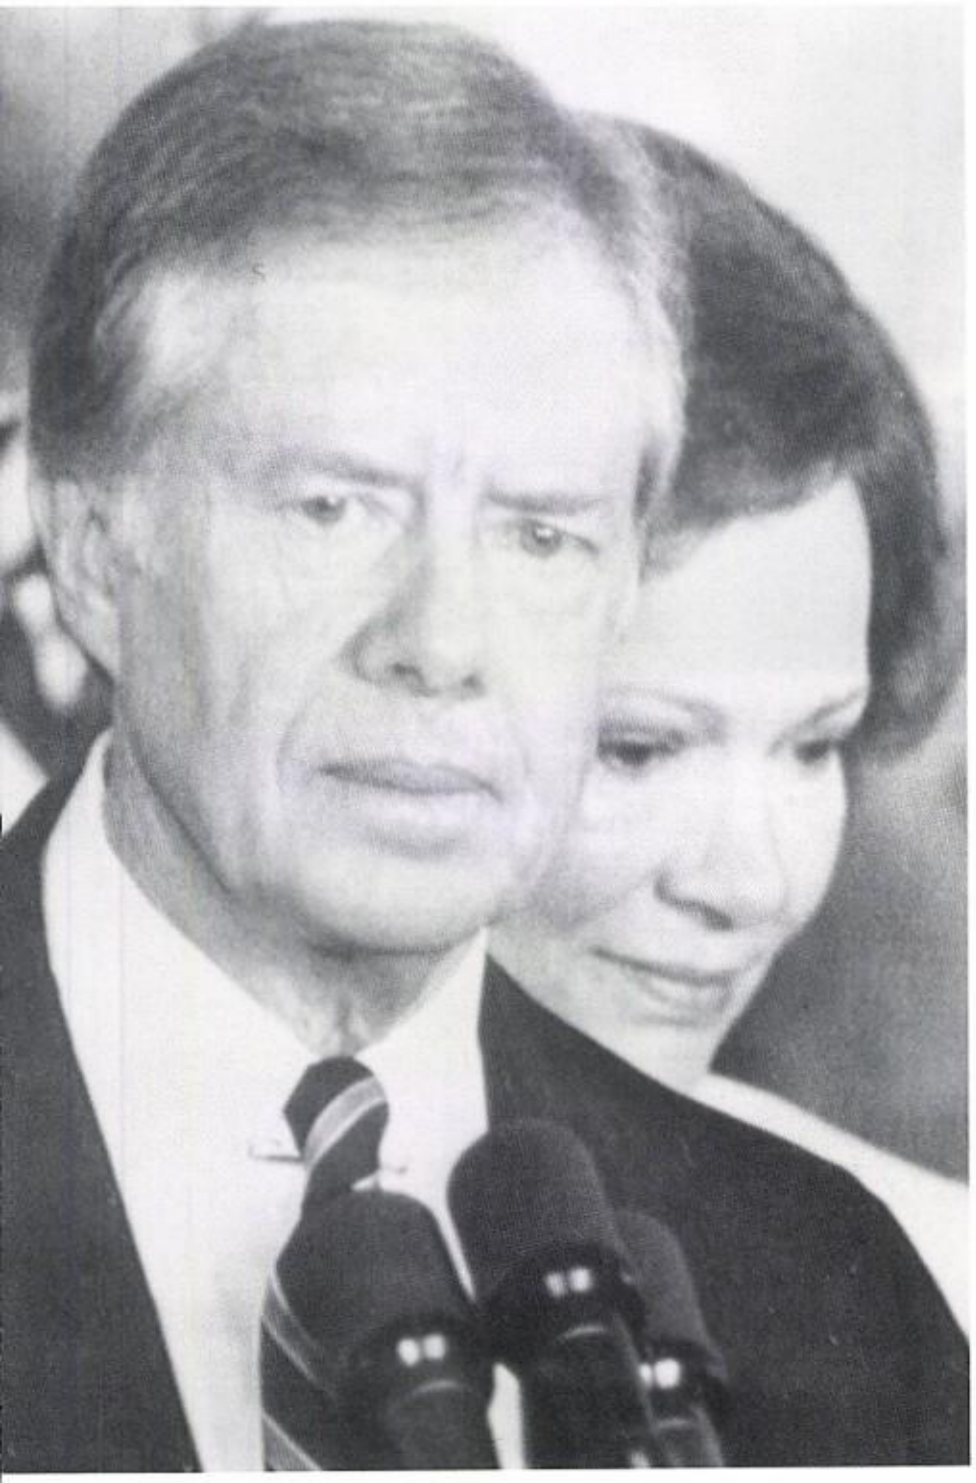
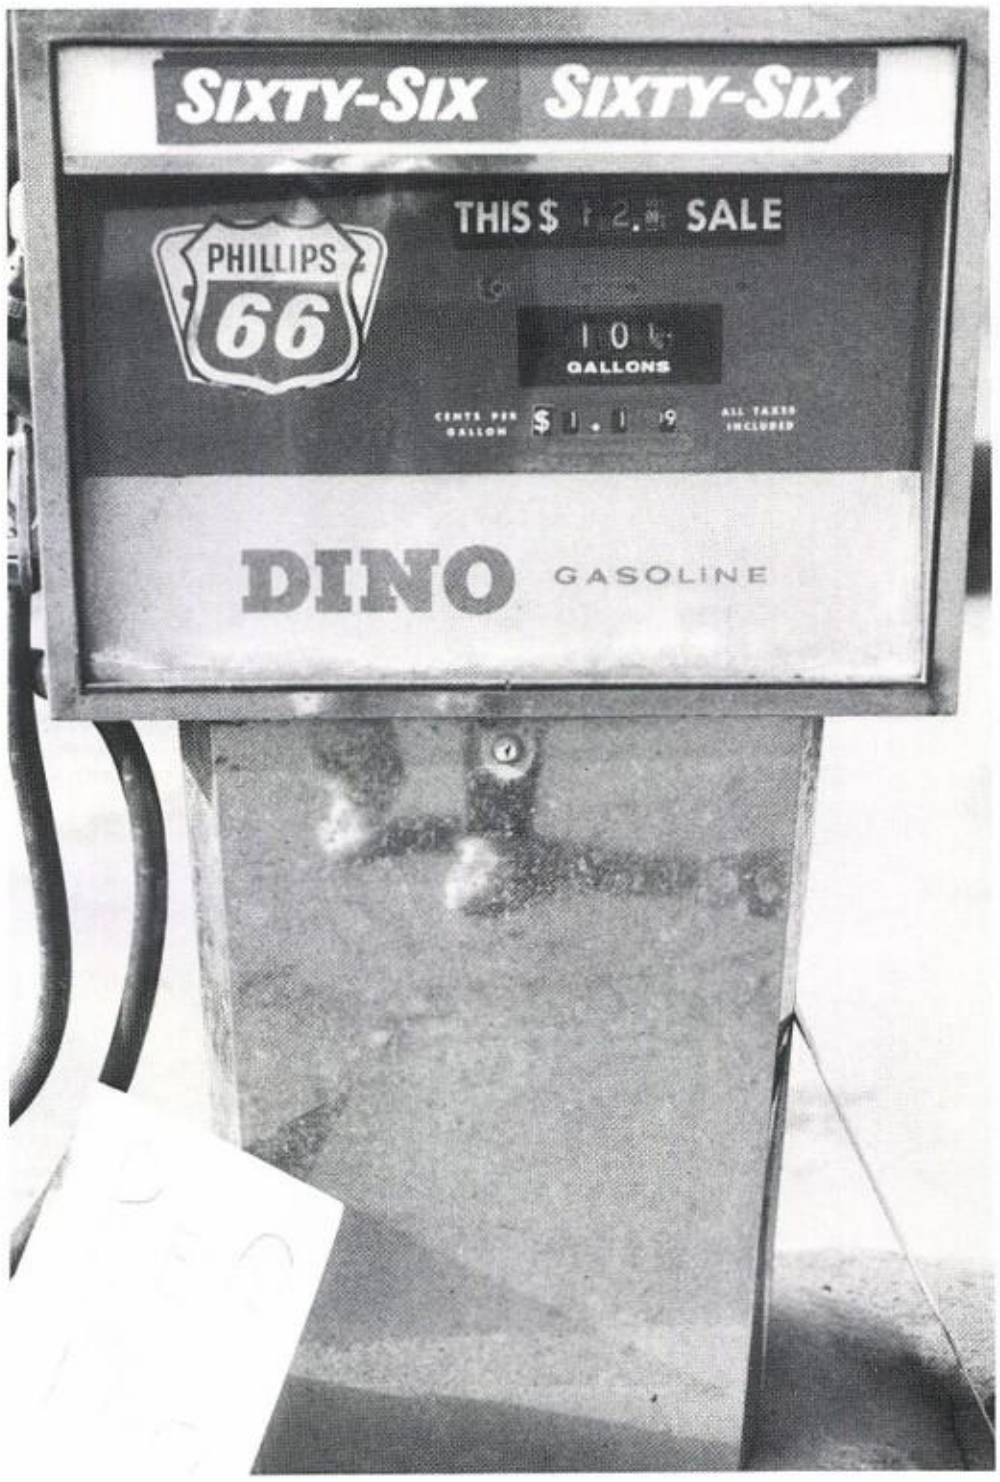
On March 27, 1980, at 12:30 p.m., Mt. St. Helens in Washington showed her awesome beauty and destructive power. The volcano, dormant for years, erupted her murderous lava and caused the demise of all forms of life on the cone of the volcano and nearby towns.

In outer space another form of awesome beauty was discovered. The Voyager 1 spacecraft, launched on September 5, 1977, completed its billion-mile journey that took more than 3 years.

Iran seized the U.S. Embassy in Iran and held 50 Americans hostage for five months and seven days. On April 11, 1980, President Carter ordered a rescue mission to be sent to Iran. However, the mission was aborted because of mechanical malfunctions which resulted in the death of eight American soldiers. The hostages continued to be held as prisoners. November 4, 1980, marked the grim first anniversary of the capture of the U.S. Embassy in Iran. That date was also Election Day. The presidential candidates were, for the Democratic Party, Mr. Jimmy Carter; for the Republican Party, Mr. Ronald Reagan; and, for the independents, Mr. John Anderson. Mr. Reagan was victorious in 45, an incredible majority, of states, while Mr. Carter controlled five states.

1981 NEWS FLASH





One of the main campaign issues was inflation, since the past year had seen an increase in the price of everything from clothes, to food, to a college education. A pair of designer jeans, necessary to every chic student, cost about $35.00. Shoes were priced at about $25.00. Food was also priced much higher. One loaf of bread cost $ .89, and half a gallon of milk cost $1.06. Even fast food restaurants were affected by inflation; Big Macs cost $1.15. One price that rose because of a need to cut back on the use of a product was that of gasoline. A price of $1.36 per gallon certainly stopped wasteful use. Even a college education was becoming more difficult to obtain because of the cost. The community college cost an average of $2,800; state colleges charged approximately $3,600; and the private college was priced at about $6,200.

The year was, indeed, a memorable one.

SEVENTH GRADERS ENJOY NEW EXPERIENCES,

As the seventh graders graduate to the high school, they are introduced to a new system. Classes are changed, the halls are crowded, and students meet and make new friends as the Kingwood and Rockwood enrollments are introduced for the first time. Seventh grade is the first step toward becoming a future graduate of RAHS.

IN MEMORY OF JEFFREY SCOTT PUTMAN

Death, be not proud, though some have called thee
Mighty and dreadful, for thou art not so;
For those whom thou think'st thou dost overthrow
Die not, poor Death, nor yet canst thou kill me.
From rest and sleep, which but thy pictures be,
Much pleasure; then from thee much more must flow,
And soonest our best men with thee do go,
Rest of their bones, and soul's delivery.
Thou art slave to fate, chance, kings, and desperate men,
And dost with poison, war, and sickness dwell,
And poppy or charms can make us sleep as well
And better than thy stroke; why swell'st thou then?
One short sleep past, we wake eternally
And death shall be no more; Death, thou shalt die.

VO-TECH TRAINS

The Somerset County Area Vocational Technical School is a school of learning in which a student may enroll upon reaching the tenth grade. Interested students choose from approximately 20 courses, ranging from advanced office technology to textile production and fabrication.

Approximately 100 students are enrolled in the vo-tech curriculum at Rockwood High.

1. The Somerset County Area Vocational-Technical School provides a program of vocational and technical education.

STUDENTS FOR FUTURE

The students attending the Vo-Tech school spend alternate weeks at the home school. Academic and general subjects such as science, mathematics, English, social studies, health, physical education, and driver education are taught in the home school while the Vo-Tech school provides instruction in vocational-technical practices and techniques.

1. "Don't tell anyone, but I think I just cut off my fingers," says Mark Sadler to Mark Spangler.

OFFICE, MATH TAUGHT

2 + 2 = 4, 2 x 6 = 12, 3x + 5 = 36, log 7. The math department teaches students not only the basic mathematical skills of addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division but also how to apply these skills in the field the student will pursue. The business students crouse includes the basics of managing money and filing income tax returns. The academic math course focuses on algebra, geometry, and trigonometry, the needed course for college.

The business course puts an emphasis on business management and secretarial skills that will be required of the student after graduation. Classes such as bookkeeping, shorthand, and typing help the student. Office practice gives the business students experience in working for someone else and also gives them responsibility to do the work on their own.

Both courses give students the required background for their futures.

SKILLS DEVELOPED

1. Industrial arts is a class for students to enhance their deftness. By working with wood, students get first hand experience. Along with the industrial arts are classes on farming skills.

2. Physical education is a popular part of a student's curriculum at RAHS. Skills are learned in such sports as basketball, volleyball, softball, and soccer. After skills are mastered, students move into game play. Everyone gets into the game and competes against fellow classmates. Health, related to physical education in that students are using and learning about the human body, is a required course for the 9th and 12th grades. A CPR course is being taken by seniors in health class for Project 81.

The history department has changed this year from the idea of mini courses, or having a different teacher each new nine weeks, to a system in which each class has one teacher for the entire year. From seventh through twelfth grades, history is a required course. Students learn about America and its development into an important world power. They also learn about other countries and their effect on the United States.
The music department consists of Junior and Senior Bands, Junior and Senior Choruses, and folk music guitar. Variety is there for students with any preference to then enjoy the arts. Besides the elective music, there is also a required course that all ninth grade students must take. Languages, French and German, are offered to all ninth grade students, also.

CLASS OF '83 PRESENTS SOPH-SENIOR

This year's Soph-Senior, sponsored by the class of '83, was held Nov. 14 in the high school cafeteria. Music was provided by 2 + 2. The theme "All Out of Love," was accented by the colors of rose and gray. Chaperones for the evening were Mr. Peterson, Mrs. Pingley, Mr. Shinew, Mr. Nixdorf, and Mr. Shegan.

1. Sally Sanner and Kurt Metz find time for a quiet moment alone.

2. Jon Jones and Amy Meyers never seem to tire of dancing.

3. Couples enjoy dancing to the theme "I'm All Out of Love."

4. The class of '83 welcomes guests to the Soph-Senior.

1. Couples relax while the band, 2 + 2, takes a break.

2. Rich Stoner and Jodi Carolus begin to tire after dancing all night long.

3. Kathy Knepper and her date enjoy their evening at the Soph-Senior.

4. Dancing provides entertainment for couples at the Soph-Senior.

5. J.R. Enos and Cindy Hostetler enjoy a quiet slow dance alone.

MAPLE PRINCESS SELECTED

Eight senior girls, Amy Romesberg, Beth Ortman, Sally Sanner, Judy Leone, Denise Breegle, Cindy Hostetler, Kay Marker, and Patty Johnson, entered the contest for the Rockwood Maple Princess title. The girls who competed were judged on the basis of personal interview, their speaking ability, promenade, and, the division which received the most practice, talent. Cindy Hostetler, who was named the Maple Princess of Rockwood, went on to compete with other girls throughout the county for the 1981 Maple Queen reign. If for any reason Miss Hostetler could not have competed in the contest, the first runner-up, Beth Ortman, or the second runner-up, Sally Sanner, would have replaced her.

2. The two archers perform their talents for the students.
3. Free-fare entertains the students with a commercial.
4. The pantomimist selects Melissa Ohler as his assistant.

This year the school participated in three assemblies. The first was a concert given by Free-fare, a rock and roll band. The second was an educational presentation in marksmanship given by two people with bows and arrows. The final assembly was a presentation on mime. The actor utilized audience participation as he entertained and taught a few basics of mime.

CHRISTMAS CONCERT

The annual Christmas Concerts were held in a different manner this year. Because a combined concert with Junior and Senior Chorus and Bands was too lengthy, the Junior and Senior Chorus Concert was held on one evening, and the following week the Junior and Senior Bands performed. Both concerts upheld the tradition of attracting sizeable audiences.

SPRING CONCERT ENTERTAINS AUDIENCE

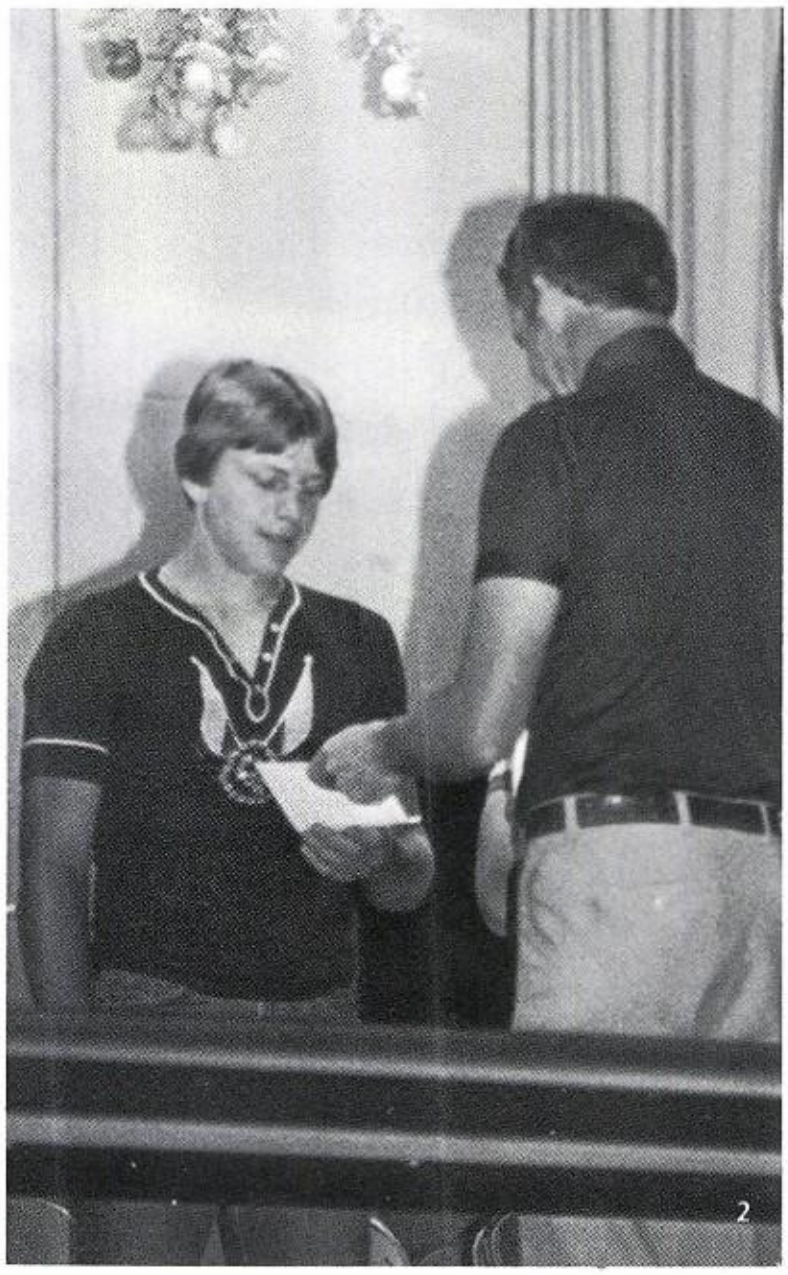
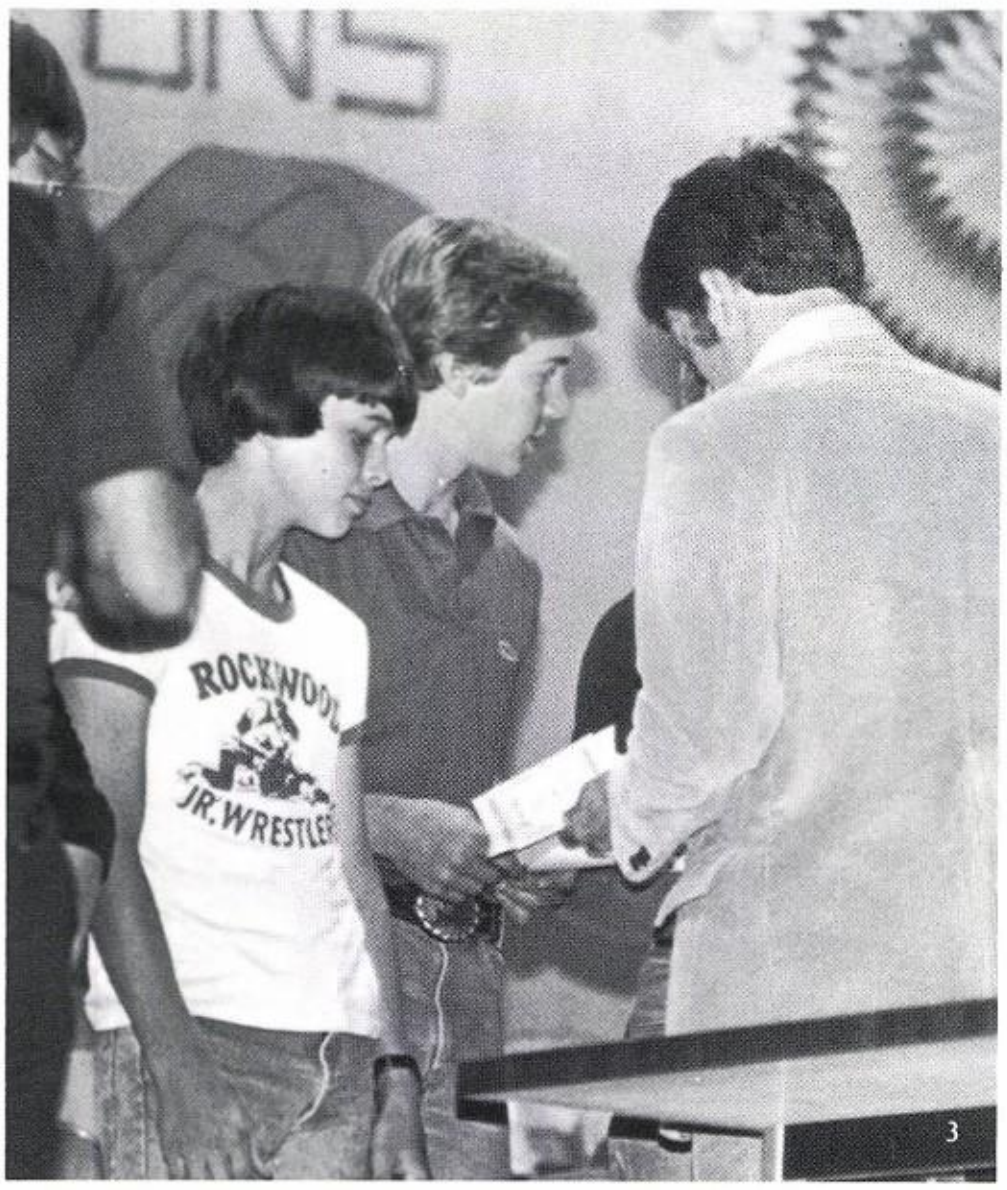
ANNUAL AWARDS DAYS CLIMAX YEAR





This year's annual awards day assemblies were held on May 28 and 29. The first assembly held, scholastic awards, honored students who achieved the highest scholastic goals in each subject. The second assembly was for athletic awards. These awards were given to students who participated in sports and showed outstanding efforts and abilities in those sports.

1. Mr. Baltzer hands out girls' softball awards.

SPIRIT WEEK

Spirit Week is an activity sponsored by the cheerleaders in an effort to increase school spirit. Every day of the week offers a different, and often odd, way for classes to prove their support to the school. On the final day of Spirit Week, each class is in competition to obtain a grand prize of $25 donated to their class.

FIRST HOMECOMING HELD

The Student Council began a new tradition this year by sponsoring Rockwood's first annual homecoming. Jill Pletcher was announced, on February 13, as Rockwood's premiere Homecoming Queen. The members of her court were, in the sophomore class, Dawn Jones; junior class, Andrea Wohlfarth; and the two seniors, Kathy Knepper and Carla Littleton. At the dance that immediately followed the basketball game, the girls danced the Queen's dance with their escorts. The commencement of such an occasion started a tradition that will long be practiced.

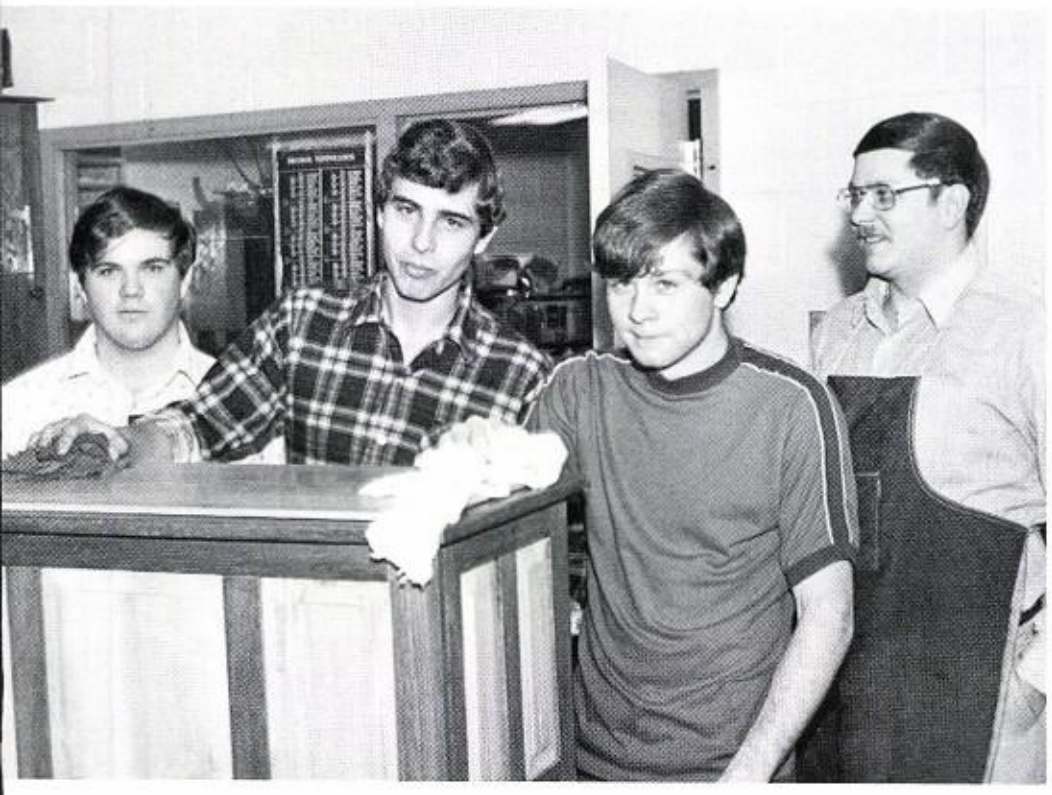
STUDENTS DEVELOP SKILLS



The Woodshop Club, advised by Mr. Livengood, is a club in which students can express their creativity by making things out of wood. New projects are not graded but are made purely for fun.

1. Shop Club— Dave Nedrow, Randy Judy, Don Weimer, Mr. Livengood (Advisor).
2. Don Weimer and Dave Nedrow collaborate on a project.

The Audio Visual Club, with the direction of advisor Alfred Costantino, is responsible for the maintenance and inventory of the school's audio visual equipment. Mr. Costantino helps the students to service, adjust, and repair such items as film strip projectors, 16 mm projectors, tape recorders, and record players.

3. The Audio Visual Club pretends to look busy for this picture.

Council Creates Enthusiasm

Student Council is an active group that involves representatives from seventh grade to twelfth elected from each homeroom. Their responsibility is to assist President Jodi Pletcher, Vice President Ann Kincaid, and advisor Mrs. Logsdon, in putting together Student Council activities that benefit the school. For the first time, the Student Council store was established to sell nutritional snacks to students and the staff.

ANNOUNCERS, FHA STIR ABOUT

Student Announcers are responsible for reading the announcements over the loudspeaker each day. The group is made up of volunteers who have participated in tryouts at the beginning of the year and have been selected for this job. Each week, two students are responsible for informing the school of daily activities. Thanks to these people, the school is informed of school business.

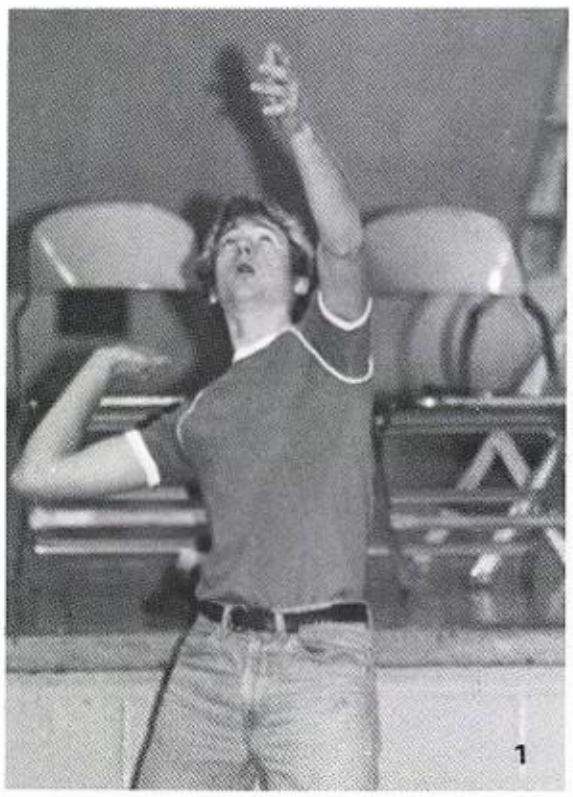
2. Junior FFA Officers - Mark Lucas (Sentinel), Drew Brant (President), Duane Nicklow (Vice President), Dean Vought (Reporter).

3. "No, this is not a course on shoplifting," retorts Mike Reckner as Jeff Hay looks on.

Volleyball Sets Way For Action



This year a new club, the volleyball club, was organized by Mr. Baltzer. Since there is no boys' volleyball competition with other schools, guys as well as girls can participate. The volleyball club meets once a week to practice and improve skills.

1. "It's a bird; it's a plane; no, it's superman," exclaims Dennis Warner.

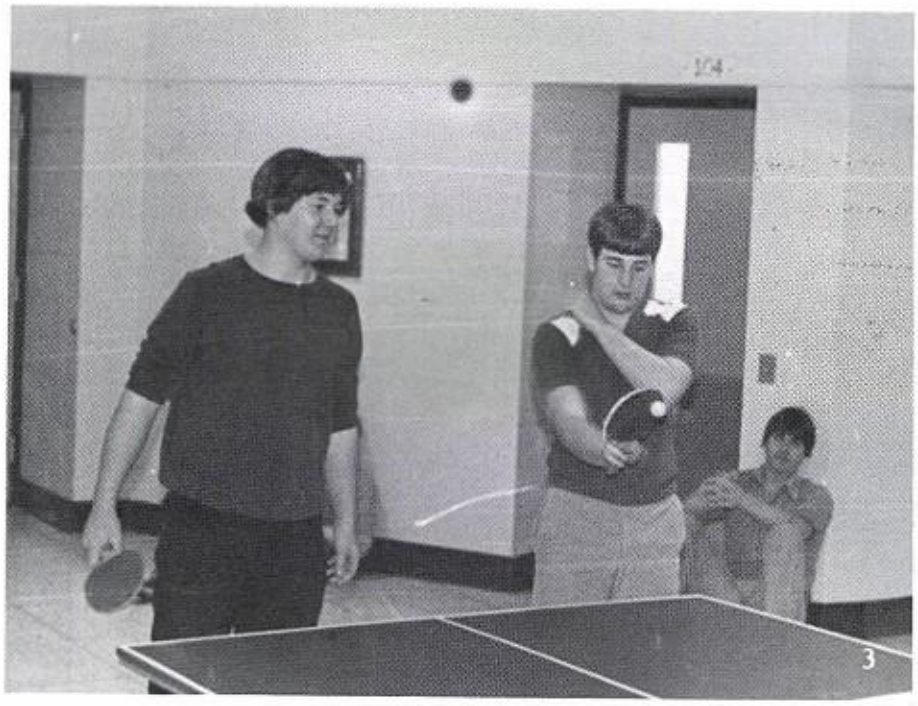
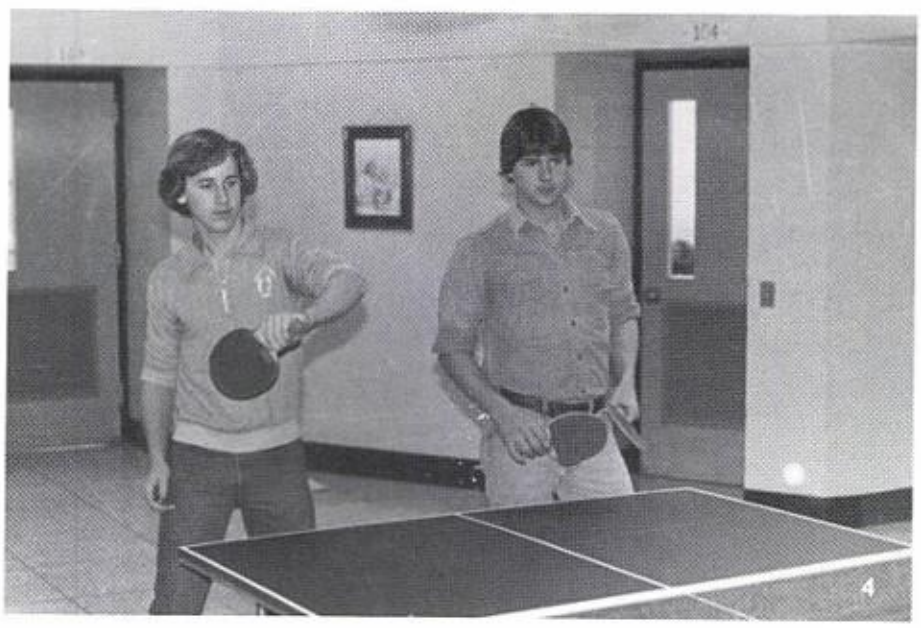
3. Rex Temple and Jim Pfeifer go for the block.

PING PONG PADDLES AWAY





Ping Pong Club meets weekly in the auditorium to practice their skills and to compete with fellow members. It helps the members to advance their dexterity, coordination, and sportsmanship. The dues that are paid are used for new equipment, such as the new table that was purchased this year. The advisor is Mrs. Biancotti.

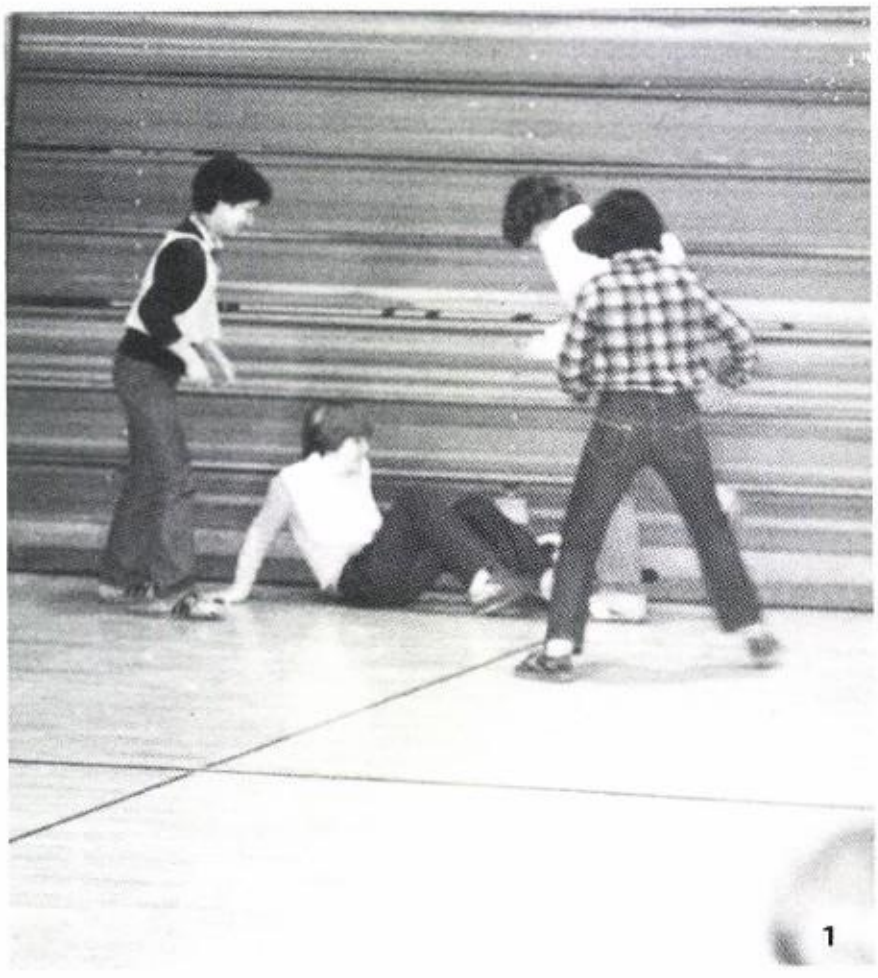
2. "Oh no, I didn't know they used bowling balls in this game," thinks Mark Temple."

3. Greg Boucher clutches his neck as he attempts his new trick, while Todd Miller smirks.

4. "Playing ping pong isn't like playing the drums," says Rob Pritts to Fred Kaufman.

SOCCER HEADS ITS WAY

Soccer Club has become very popular at RAHS. The junior and senior clubs meet alternate weeks. While playing, students learn skills and put them to use in active competiton. The advisor is Mr. Baltzer.



1. "The object of the game is to kick the ball, not the person," says Suzette Hange to her friends.

2. "Go for it, Stacy Pritts," shouts Jeff Romesberg.

3. AFS Eyes World

The American Field Service is a world-wide student exchange program. Students from all over the globe can come to visit the small town of Rockwood, and Rockwood inhabitants can visit different parts of America. Through the domestic program, Rockwood students never leave the United States. The international program involves only one or two students who are chosen from each school to travel abroad. This year the school is participating in both of these programs. Satu Ala- Viuhkola is the exchange student for one year from Finland.

SENIORS

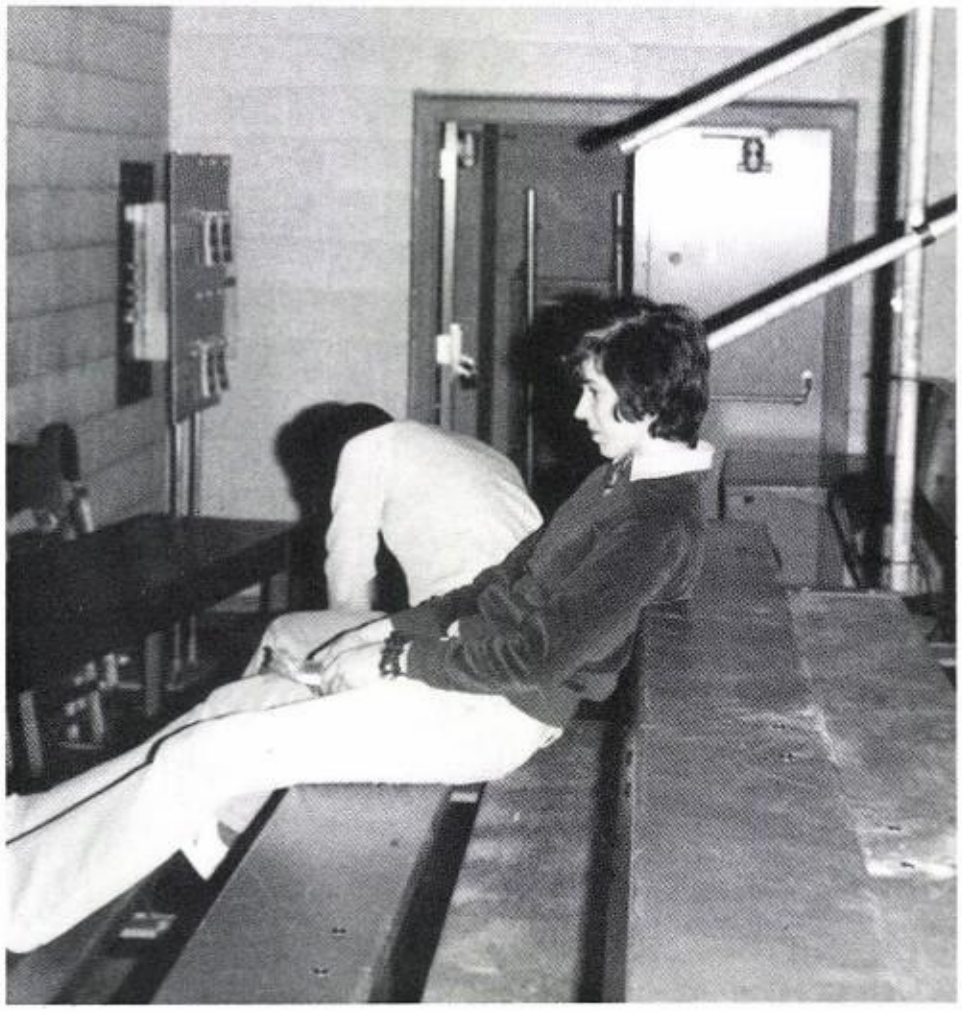
THE GREAT EVENT!

"MAY" "29" "1981"

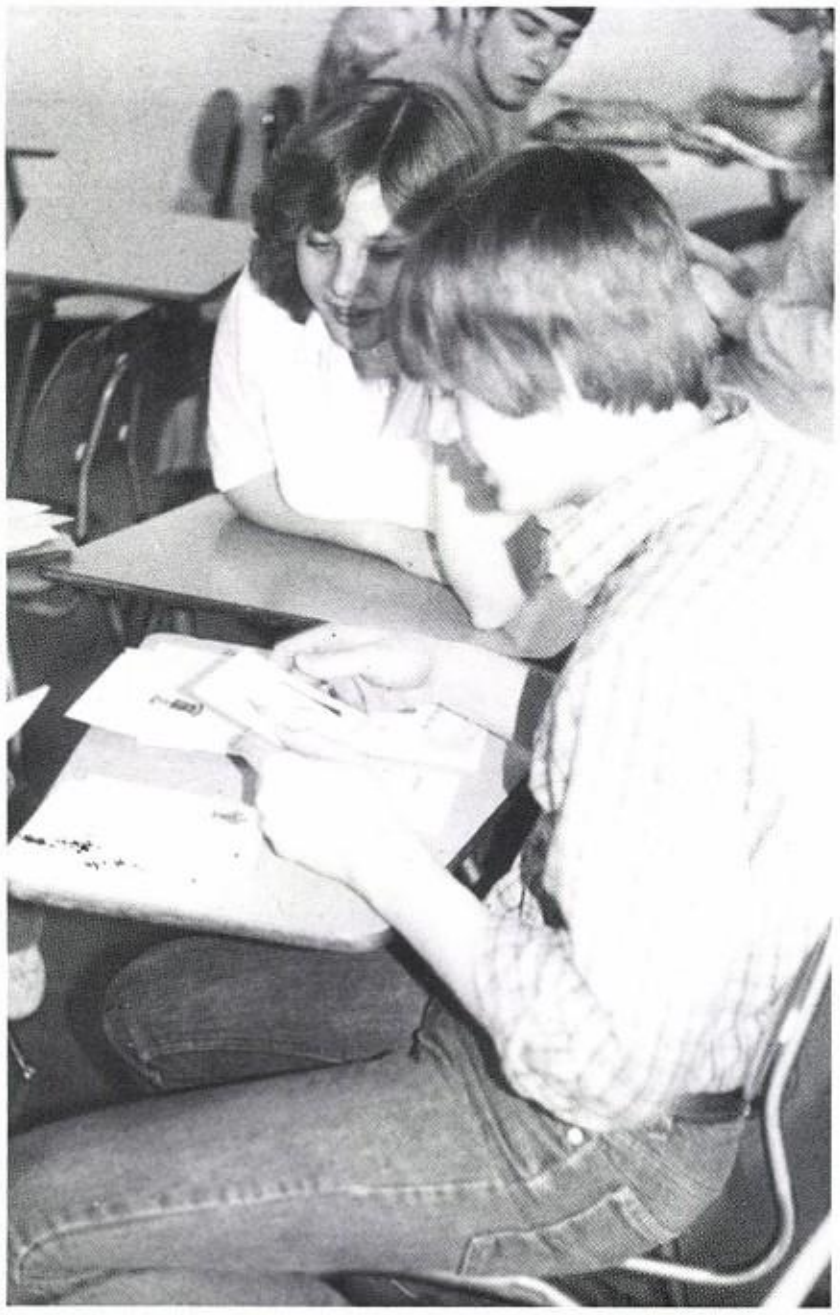
"Union Pacific"

"Graduation"

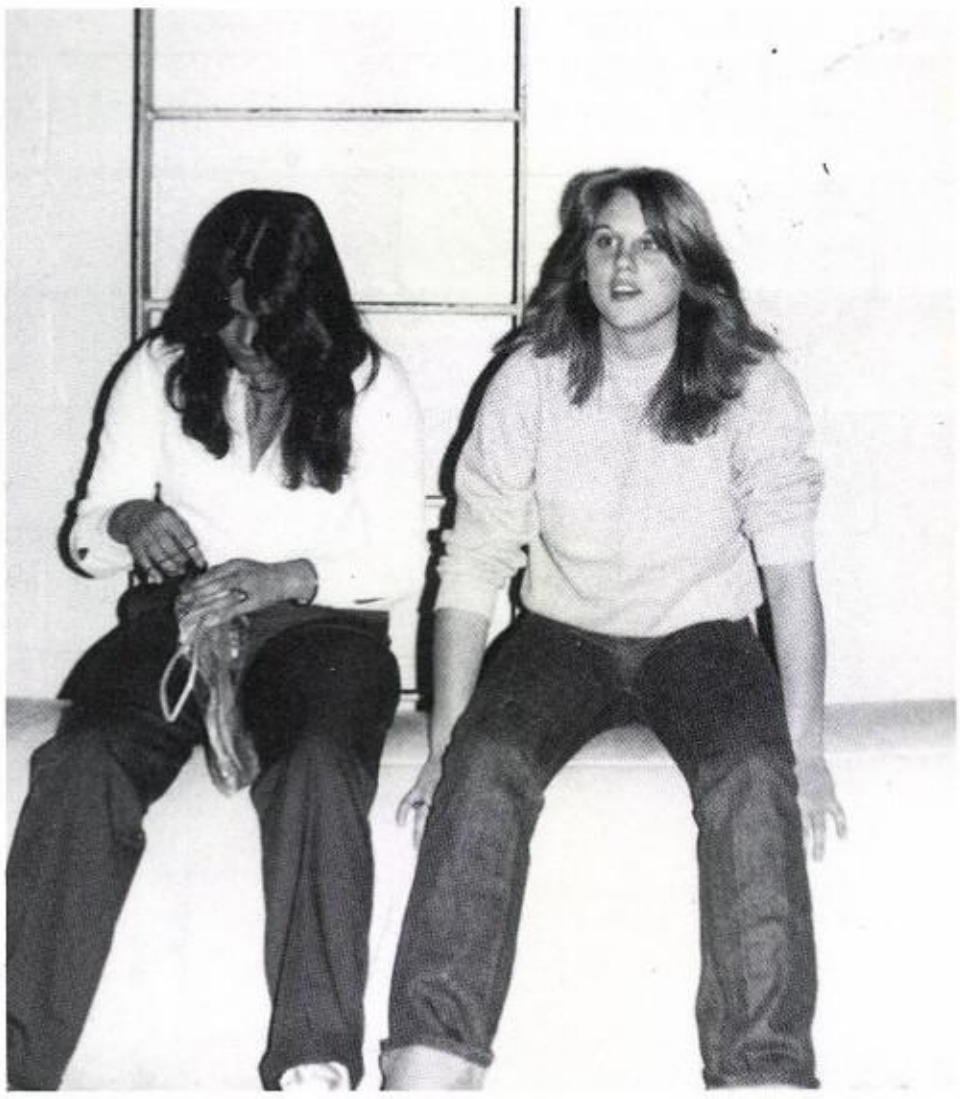
Seniors are in the process of ordering senior pictures.



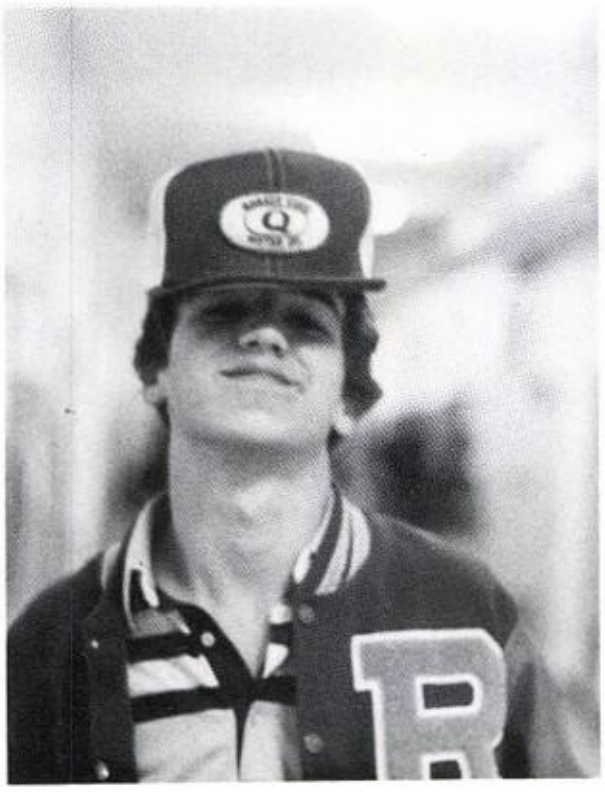
Brenda Youkin rests on the stage after a long, hard day.

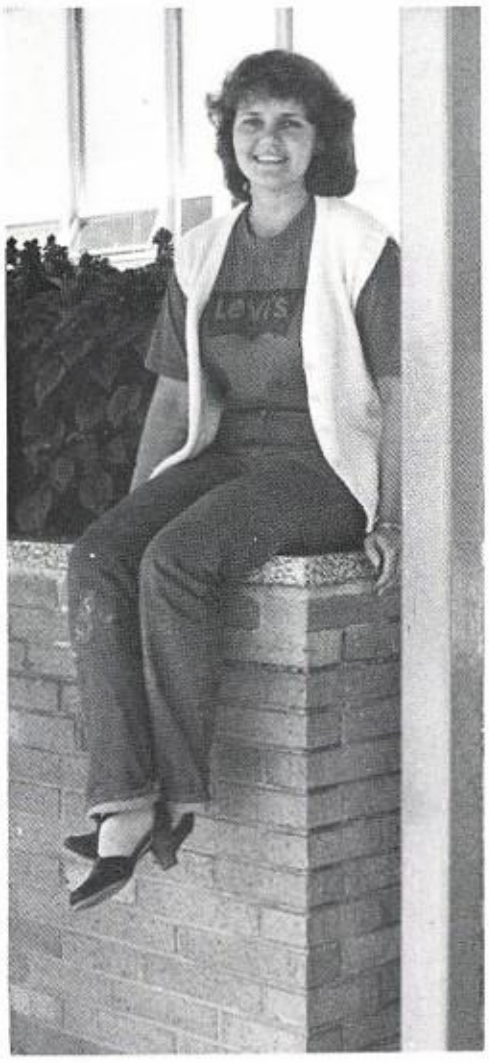


Matt Hixson and Patty Johnson gaze at their senior announcements.

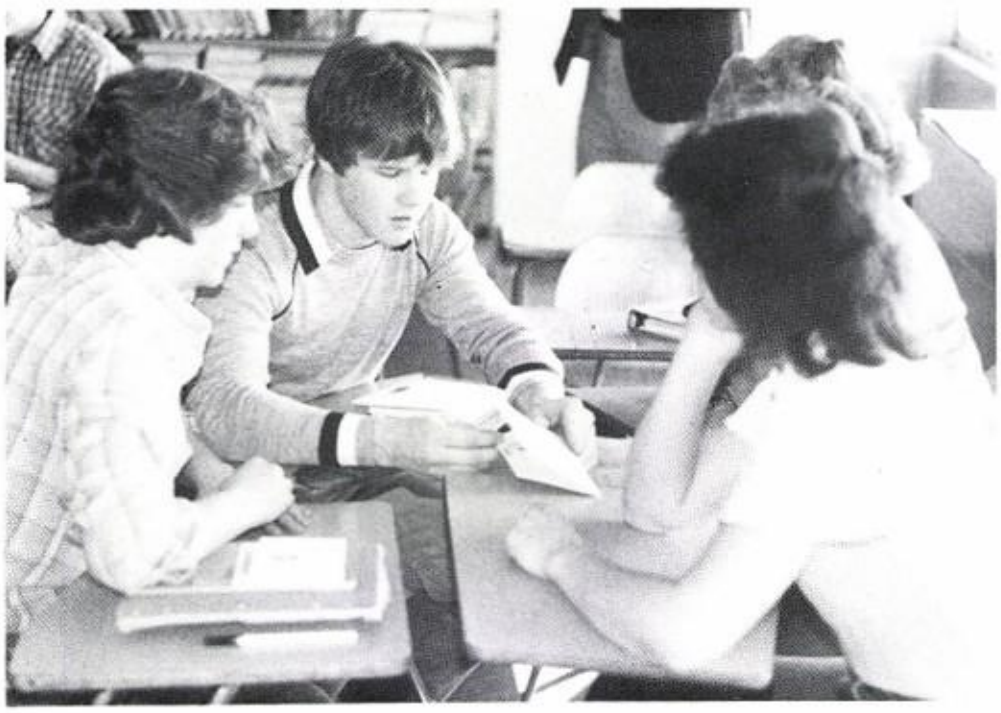


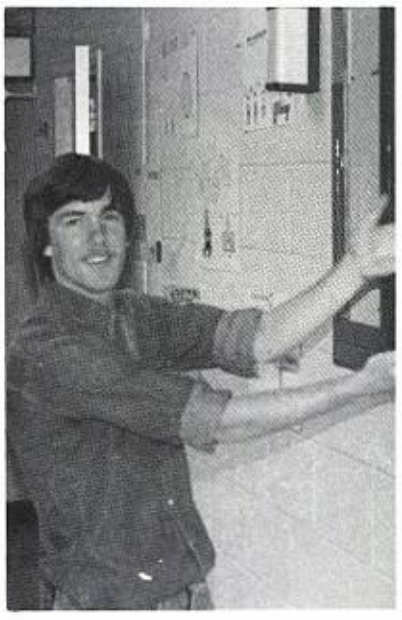
Jilma Ramirez and Lisa Clevenger reminisce about days of the past.





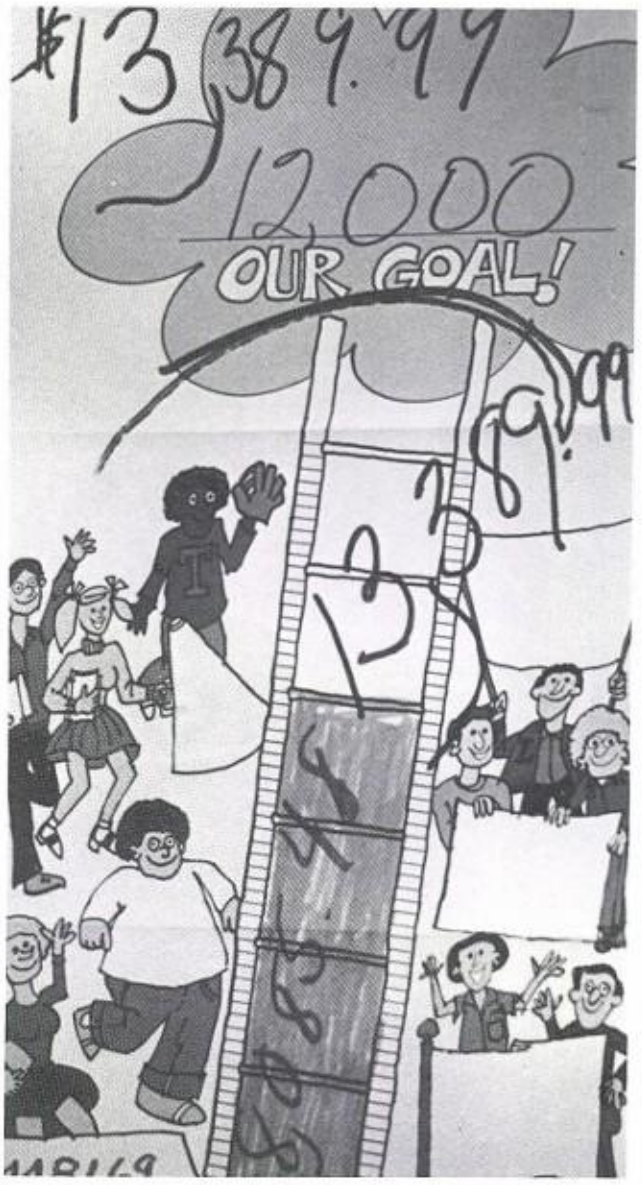
NOTES





SENIORS OBTAIN $13,389.99

The Senior Class sold magazines in an effort to raise money for the senior trip. Before the sale went underway, the class decided on a goal of $12,000 in sales and a super goal of $13,000. Mr. Hanna, the sales representative, encouraged the sale by offering prizes to top salesman and to everyone who sold the necessary amount of magazines for the class to reach its goal. The seniors reached their goal and even surpassed the super goal! As a prize for achieving this, the seniors were permitted to watch a film entitled "Smokey and the Bandit."



Magazine Sales: Teresa Fox, Sally Sanner, and Kurt Metz were named the three top salespersons.

Mr. Hanna explains the directions for selling magazines.

Michele Shaulis is lost in the land of doggies!

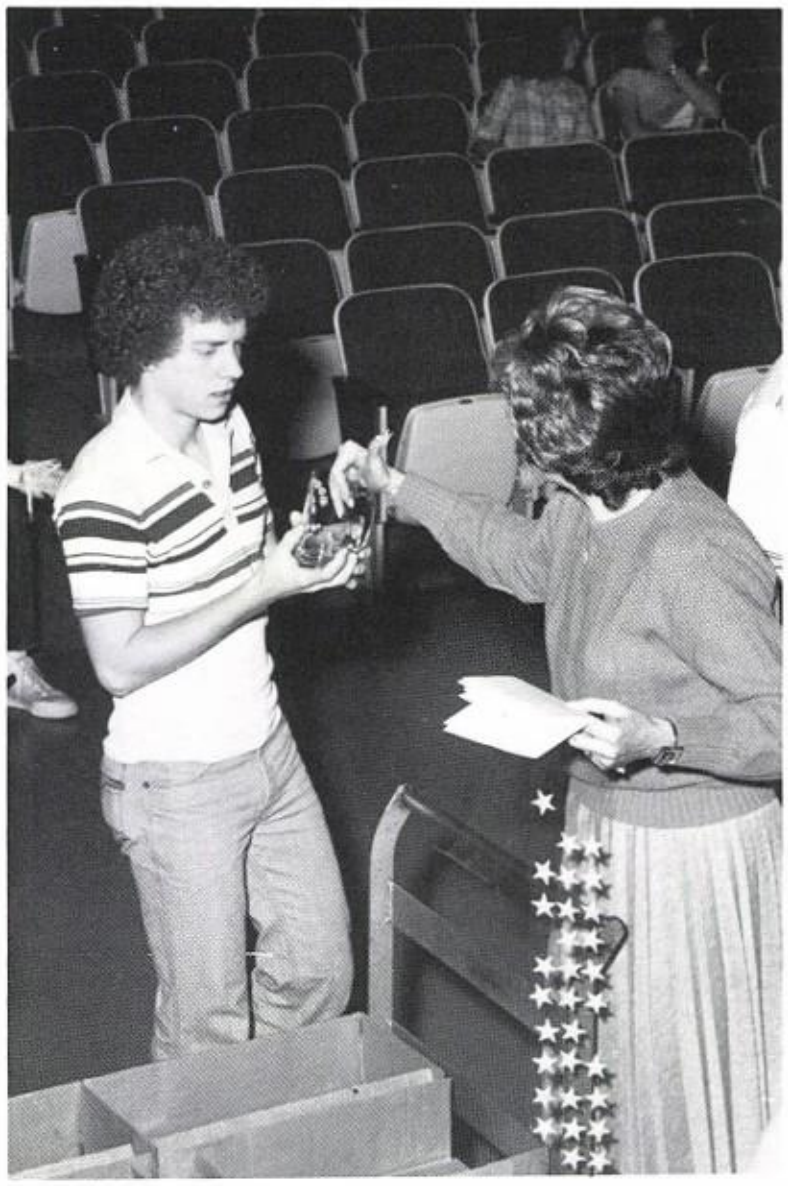
Jill Pletcher eagerly accepts her prizes from Mr. Lewis.



Mrs. Black hands out prizes to Kirk Snee.

CLASS LEADERS OF 1981

Advisors for the Class of 1981: Mr. Maize, Mr. Lewis, Mrs. Biancotti, Mrs. Johnson.

SENIORS TAKE

The seniors traveled to Busch Gardens and Williamsburg, Virginia, on May 18 and 19. The first day was spent at Busch Gardens, visiting England, Ireland, France, Germany, and Italy. Ireland was where the more daring seniors ventured to battle with the Loch-Ness Monster. The more reserved seniors visited Germany and watched, amazed, the Oktoberfest.

The second day was spent touring Colonial Williamsburg, a fantastic part of American history. The total two-day trip was exciting, fun, and educational.

Wanda Faidley asks Rena Augustine, Tina Myers, Kay Marker, Julie Henry, Brenda Younkin, and Mary Kinsella if they really expect her to ride the Loch-Ness monster.

The clock tower in the village of Hastings greets the seniors as they enter Busch Gardens.

Satu Ala-Viuhkola walks through Busch Gardens.

TRIP TO VIRGINIA

Margie Meyers examines her ticket to see if she is able to enter the park.

Rena Augustine laughs as she remembers the fun she had at Busch Gardens.

Mrs. Boyd keeps a close eye on the seniors on the way back from Virginia.

Kathy Bryner smiles at the thought of coming home to tell her family about the trip.

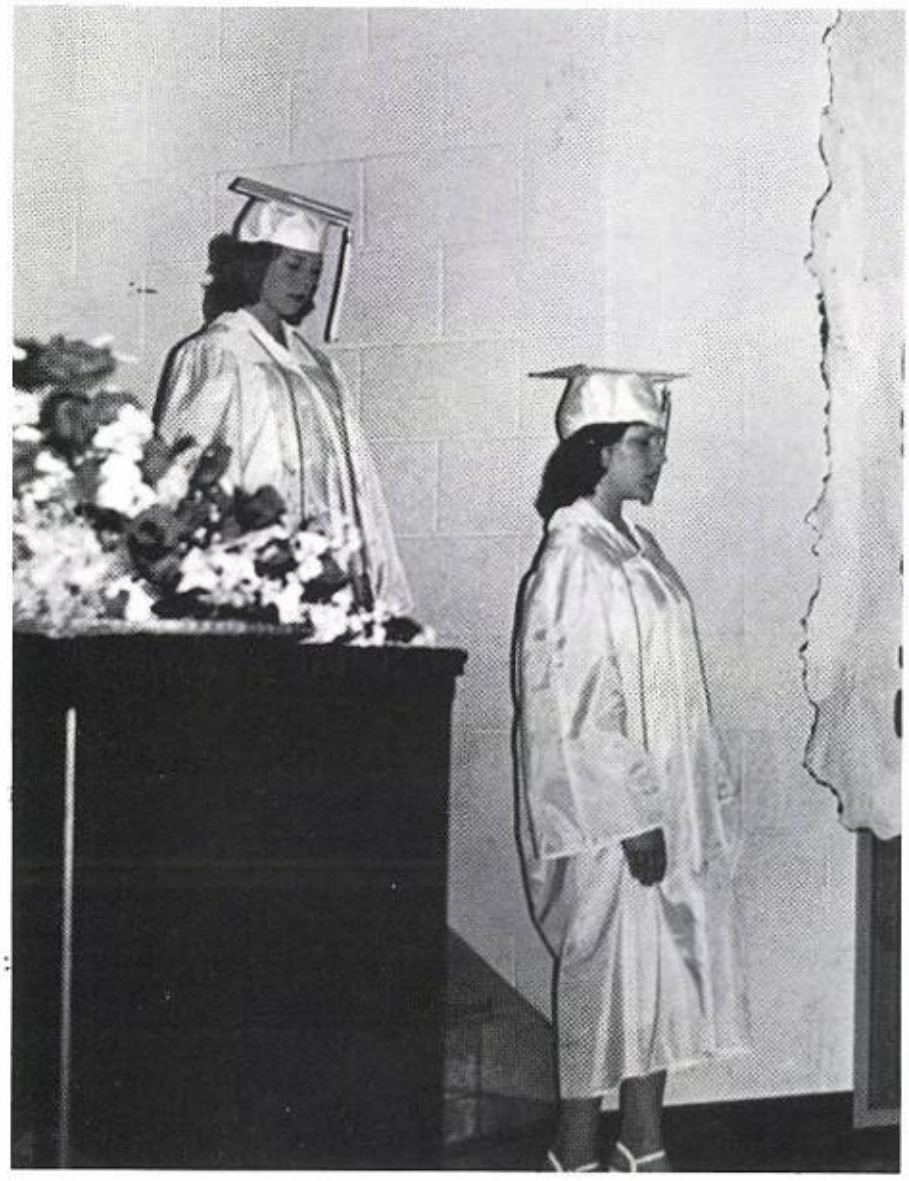
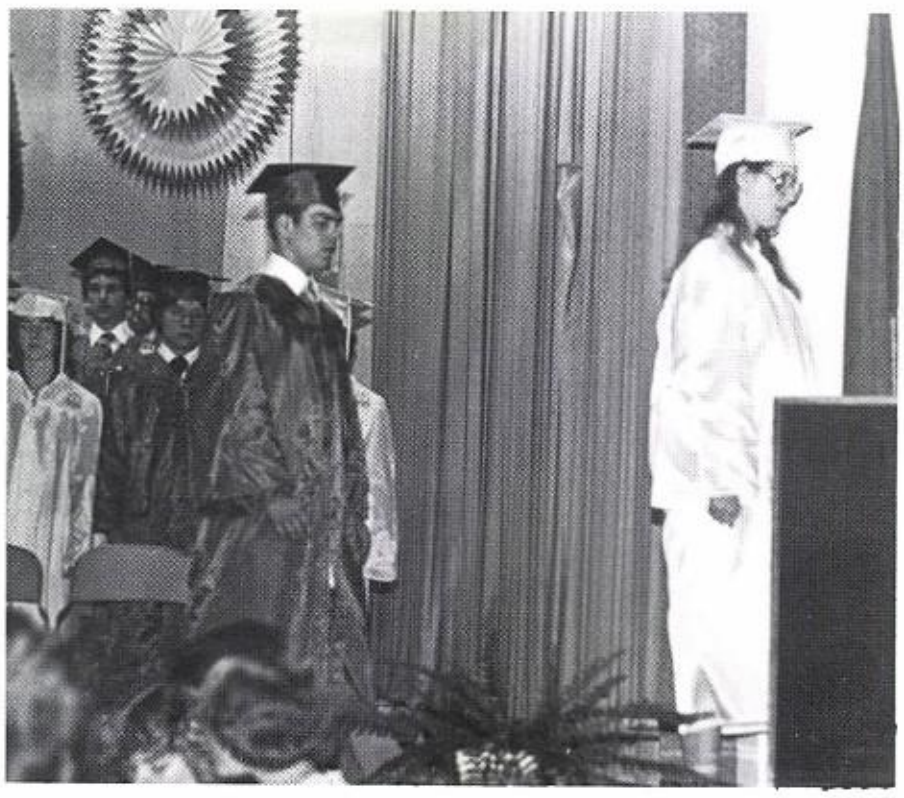
SENIORS ATTEND BACCALAUREATE

Baccalaureate was held on May 28, 1981, at 7:00 p.m. Mr. Lavigne's choir led the group in several songs. The Rev. Hazlett and the Rev. Moore led the services. Patty Johnson, Jack Romesberg, and Sally Sanner, members of the graduating class, recited scriptures from the Bible.

Randy Judy and Tracy King recess from the stage.



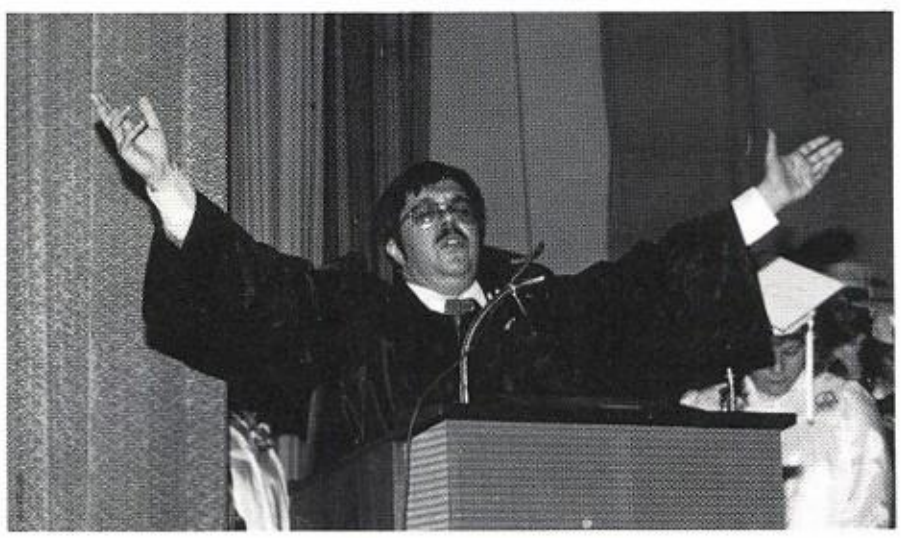
Beth Ortman, salutatorian, and Tammy Gross, valedictorian, march out after Baccalaureate.



Keith Baker and Sharon Judy solemnly leave the service.

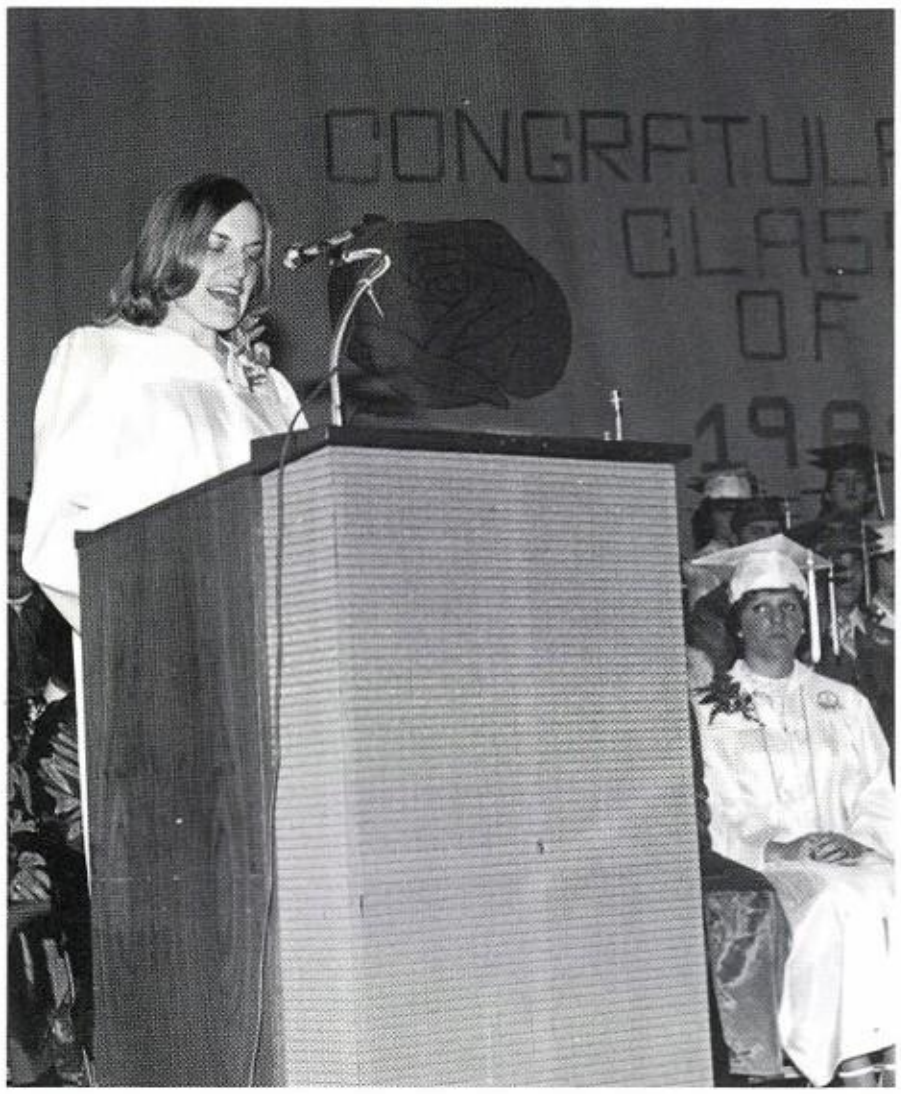
COMMENCEMENT HIGHLIGHTS YEAR

Seniors process onto the stage.



The Rev. Hazlett leads the congregation in prayer.

Commencement exercises for the graduating class of 1981 were held on May 29, 1981. The guest speaker was Grace Hay. Those participating in the ceremony included Jill Pletcher, class president; Jodi Pletcher, Student Council president; Tammy Gross, valedictorian; and Beth Ortman, salutatorian.



Miss Grace Hay addresses the graduating class.

"After twelve years, you still can't dress yourself!" exclaims Rob Pritts to Don Weimer.

Seniors prepare themselves for Commencement.

"I made it," thinks a smiling Rena Augustine as she receives her diploma.

"That pin is a dangerous weapon," says Rex Henry to Mrs. Johnson as she pins on his rose.

Mr. Nixdorf announces the graduating class of 1981.

"It goes this way," says Michele Shaulis to Danny Pletcher.

Tim Heiple receives his diploma from Mrs. Leatrice Hochard.

Dr. Mathias congratulates Jim Pfeifer for his achievment.

Special thanks to Mr. William Cameron for all of his assistance and to Mr. Dave Greene, Mr. James Kretchman, Mr. William Gregg, and "The Somerset Daily American" for their photographic assistance.

The year held thousands of memories for all students as the express train plummetted its way through the new school year. The spirit-filled gym at a pep rally, the tension in the air at a close basketball game, and the feeling of sentiment as we shared a special moment in the classroom, all are branded on our memories. Many things going on in the world around us, outside of the school, affected us in the same sort of way. We can all remember the feeling of relief as the release of the hostages was announced, the feeling of new hope as Ronald Reagan was inaugurated as the fortieth president of the United States of America, the feeling of horror at the assasination attempt on his life, and the pride virtually screaming from every American as the space shuttle Columbia landed safely on earth after fifty two hours in space. Learning was a gratifying experience as each of us grew and matured in the classroom and through all of the extra-curricular activities. Like any traveller, we ended our journey through the school year with mixed feelings; anticipation of a new life and regret as we left our friends to become individuals and adults. The expressway has not stopped yet, though; it has only begun carving its path into the new decade.

Charlie

To a good FRIEND
Who is A SWEIRD AS
I AM and likes todo
Everything I like todo.
Good luck in everything youdo and who youdo it with. Everything youdo in bad hopes and good Protection.

Char,

To a crazy human who knows nothing about being an animal! Rem I have 9- LIVES, but you only have 1
so P-A-Y-T-Y !
till ya puke !

MEOW, MEOW

To my Cousin in the class of '88
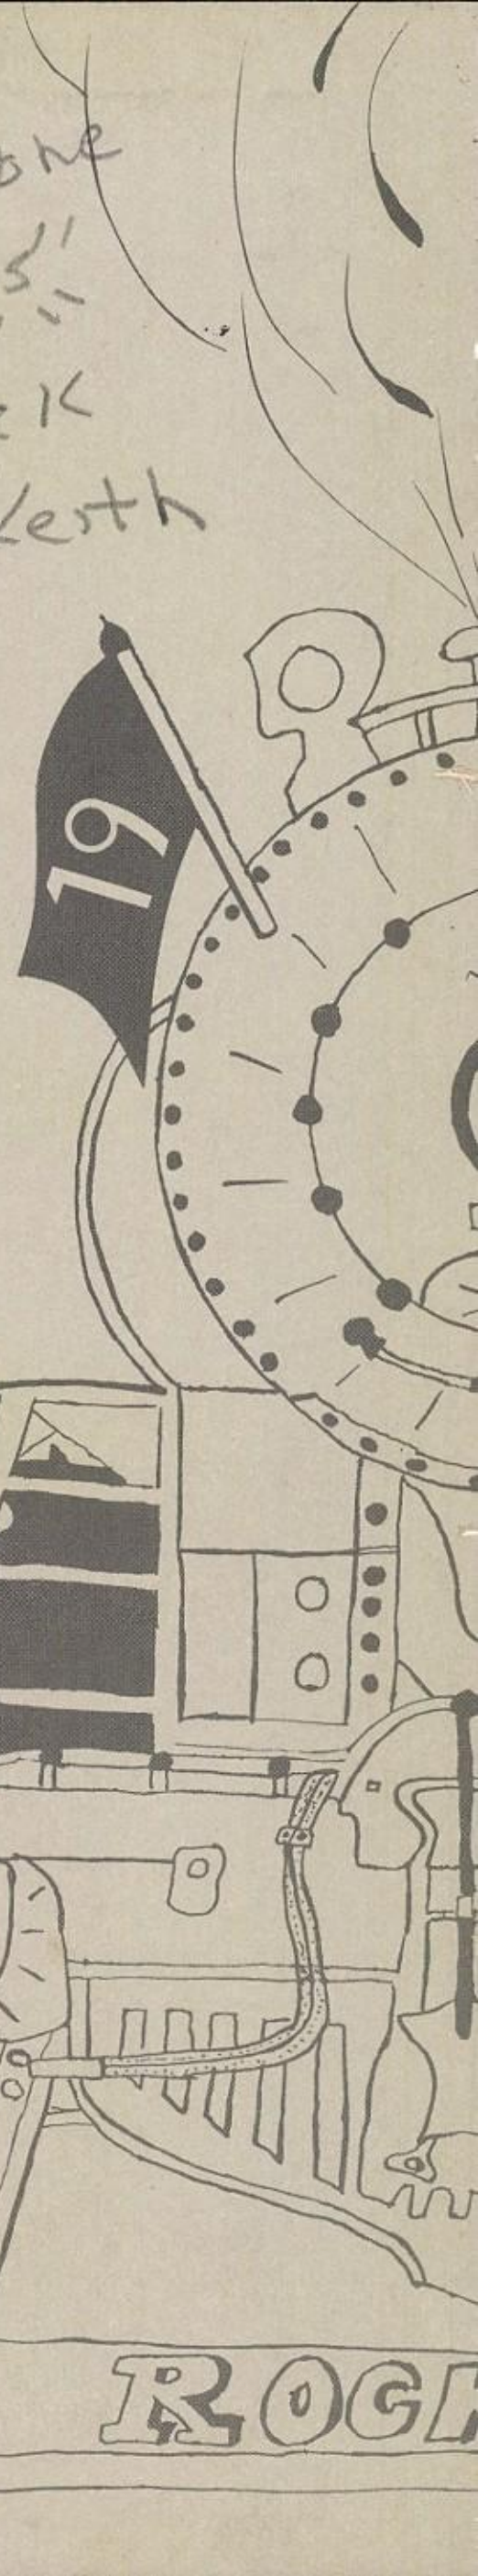
Good luck
Keith



Rob

To Charla,
I'm different
than ANYONE ELSE,
Because I've rote in the puff of STEAM. Hope you have fun in the years to come at RAHS! Hope
Your Tammy have as much fun
& Mr. Shingem, just like me and Porik did. Just remember someone loves you (????)
Good Luck! Like Russell
says Party Hardy!
